barbatilor au afirmat că au observat o imbunătățire a stării generale de sănătate, a încredinții în ei insăși.

"randomized" means that the people who receive either the study drug or the control group are randomly assigned to a group.

a highly trained specialist that can deliver the necessary expertise to safely address some of the serious problems.